Root Down Farm Tour

Fundraiser for BAR-C / Bay Area Ranchers Co-op
January 30th from 11am - 12

Root Down Farm Tour

On Saturday, Jan. 30th, 11am-12 Root Down Farm in Pescadero is having a tour! Farm owner Dede Boise will guide you through the processes they utilize to humanely raise their animals for meat consumption.

This is a fundraiser for the newly formed Bay Area Ranchers Co-op with all proceeds going towards their purchase of a mobile meat processing facility to serve small to midsize ranchers in the Bay Area.

Root Down Farm is a female owned, pasture-based poultry and pig farm located in beautiful Pescadero where they raise chickens, ducks, pigs and turkeys. They work hard to humanely raise the healthiest animals possible, while working within the ecosystem to responsibly steward the land and improve soil health. Their animals are free to roam pastures, are fed a nutrient dense diet of organic / non-GMO grain. They are never given hormones or antibiotics and you can taste the difference immediately from conventionally raised meat.

Our current industrial meat system is unsustainable and in dire need of being restructured to serve the populations they are meant to feed. We will be talking about how the meat industry is regulated and what we are doing to transition towards more humane, healthy and sustainable measures.

This outdoor, small group tour is for 10 – 15 people total. Wearing masks and social distance guidelines in place at the time of the tour will be followed.

The cost of the tour is $20 per person. Please sign up and pay for the tour at this link through Eventbrite...

Becoming a Video Game Designer

by Daniel Noah Halpern

You've got to clear the path. You know there's a turret in your way and that could be tricky – then again, so was the jungle but you survived. Now you've got one goal in mind: killing minions.

And if none of that makes sense to you, get ready to learn: "Becoming a Video Game Designer" by Daniel Noah Halpern can show you how to dip into a $150 billion industry.

For tens of thousands of years, humans have played games together but not until 1958 did things begin to happen in electronic gaming: that was the year when a few guys became "the world's first hackers" by messing with circuits on model trains to make them run better; and when Brookhaven National Laboratory physicist William Higinbotham created an electronic game "just for fun." He never patented his table-tennis-like game but it was "the hit of the open house" when he presented it.

Through the decades, video gaming made leaps in technology and bounds into users' homes and offices. Today, nearly 3 billion people consider themselves to be gamers and they're not just stereotypical teenagers: nearly three out of four gamers are over eighteen years old. Just under half of them are women.

So how can you learn to be a part of this expansive industry?

First, says Halpern, you'll need an idea. You'll need to know how to code and write program, things you can learn with online tutorials; it helps to have a degree in some related field – say, engineering or math – but it's not necessary. You'll need to know a little about psychology and what sells. Then, the best way "to make a game is by making a game." Just keep in mind that, as a designer, you probably won't become crazy-rich. Also, "the gaming industry does not have a sparkling track record on gender equality."

At its very basic, a video game is a piece of plastic and some pixels, to paraphrase author Daniel Noah Halpern. The trick is to "convince" a gamer that he's in another world while he's playing, but learning how to do that isn't easy.

No doubt, Halpern talks the talk here. Every page of "Becoming a Video Game Designer" speaks directly to the heart of a gamer, from descriptions of individual game action to the game-centric language included in his history and interviews. Readers who live to game will have found a kindred spirit in this book.

Enthusiastic newbies, though, are out of luck, and never mind investors: this book assumes a lot – mostly, that a designer wanna-be is already pretty knowledgeable on hacking, gaming, and terminology. Indeed, vague suggestions and unhelpful advice such as "make a game by making a game" may just frustrate some readers.

In the end, this book's good for someone who's experienced in gaming and game-hacking. It's great for an intrigued businessperson who hopes to understand the industry, even a little bit. For most readers looking for an investment, career, or career change, though, "Becoming a Video Game Designer" just isn't clear enough.

NOTICE TO DEFENDANT:

TERRY BRUCE YANCY, AN INDIVIDUAL,
AND DOES 1-10, INCLUSIVE.

YOU ARE BEING SUED BY PLAINTIFF:

JUDY GRYSTAR

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF CHRISTOPHER DAVID OW, Decedent

Case Number: 20PR00508

TO ALL HEIRS, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of CHRISTOPHER DAVID OW.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by AMBER OW, in the Superior Court of California, County of SANTA CRUZ.

THE PETITION requests that AMBER OW, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows:

Date: MARCH 24, 2021 Time: 8:30 a.m. Dept. 4

The address of the Court is 701 Ocean St., Santa Cruz, CA 95060.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the Court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the Court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the Court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the Court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.
