Democracy Awakening: Notes on the State of America

by Heather Cox Richardson

Your neighbor isn't talking to you anymore.

She stopped waving "Good morning" months ago, as did the guy who walks his dog down your street every day, and it happened right after your brother-in-law called you names and stormed out of your house. You blame yourself for it. You blame politics even more, so read the new book "Democracy Awakening" by Heather Cox Richardson and blame history, too.

So many times in the last seven years, you've asked yourself how we got here, politically. We never set out to divide, but here we are. Will America ever get back to where we were?

To get an answer, you first must know that there's a pattern to the politics we've seen lately, and it starts when a small number of people use language to convince "a disaffected population" that they were ignored in the past but that they can be "important again."

"Once people internalize their leader's propaganda," Richardson says, "it doesn't matter when pieces of it are proven to be lies, because it has become central to their identity."

Some have traced this back to Nazism but Richardson takes her explanation back much further, to the Lincoln presidency, when northerners refused to respect the Fugitive Slave Act of 1850.

That was when the word "conservative" had a new meaning, but not exactly like the one we know now. Conservatism in the mid-1800s meant embracing equality, which butted up later against New Deal ideas in FDR's presidency.

Things changed – and so had the meaning of conservative – when Black soldiers, returning from World War II demanded real equality. By the time President Johnson had signed into law the Civil Rights Act of 1964, he

astutely knew that this movement toward national equality would make room for a "certain kind of politician" to exploit the process's events and step into a position of power.

And on June 16, 2015, Donald Trump descended a golden escalator and announced his campaign for president...

The holidays are coming soon, and they get harder and harder to endure. You've tried to ban politics from your mealtimes, but it's getting impossible and maybe gaining an understanding will help. "Democracy Awakening" will open your eyes.

Exasperation might make you think there's no way out of this big mess, but author Heather Cox Richardson shows readers how we've seen this political situation before, and when. Frustration might make you feel pessimistic, but Richardson reveals an abundance of hope here, which is thought-provoking and surprisingly contagious. Anger could make you want to throw in the towel and scowl, but Richardson's words are calming, and she's unruffled in her explanations and her timeline in history.

Reading this book is like installing a fresh light bulb in a dark closet. Suddenly, you can see everything that's there and, thankfully, it still fits just right.

This book seems to lean slightly to the left, but that should not keep today's conservatives away from it. "Democracy Awakening" offers understanding and a way forward. It offers a reason to start talking ■

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: Date: 10/24/2023, Time: 8:30AM Dept. 10

The address of the Court is 701 Ocean St., Santa Cruz, CA 95060.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the Court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the Court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the Court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the Court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844) 477-7869 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.STOXPOSTING.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 112795-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 112795-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
