Companies to Watch in 2026

Santa Cruz Works has put together a list of companies to watch in 2026. Innovation in Santa Cruz tends to start the same way it always has: a weird problem, a smart team, and a community that rewards substance over hype. In the past, some big companies sparked here but migrated north to grow. 2026 signals a different trajectory. This year it is less about invention and more about institutional capacity: the ability to hire, ship, comply, and scale from Santa Cruz County without losing the local anchor; i.e. Joby Aviation and Capstan Medical. Capacity is bolstered in S.C. because we have strong talent, world-class research, environmental stewardship, and a culture that values craftsmanship, authenticity, and balance. Build a real product, respect the place you live, and do work you can defend. That is Santa Cruz.

This is a list (www.santacruzworks.org) of companies with visible 2026 catalysts, defensible advantages, and proof they can execute. The story in 2026 is not can we invent it, it's can we scale it, can we operate it, and can we keep it anchored here?

Across aviation, fintech, climate, consumer hardware, and biotech, the throughline is the same: fewer heroic sprints, more repeatable systems. If that pattern holds, Santa Cruz will keep doing what it does best, not just starting innovation, but growing it into global companies that still feel unmistakably local. And companies such as Santa Cruz Works are vital “supporting actors”, because they help shape the ceiling for everyone else.

New Year, New You books

by Various Authors

You thought about it carefully. You didn't make reservations on purpose, because nothing seemed do-able – yet, you still want to do better in 2026. But get this: it's perfectly permissible to make a New Year's resolution after January 1, so why not try? Why not grab these four great new books and see how a New Year can mean a New You after all?

If tackling your financial health is what you need to do this year, then check out "How to Be a Rich Old Lady" by Amanda Holden (Avid Reader Press, $30.00), a book that will help make sense of finances, retirement, and investing. You know what money can do for you. But do you know how to tap into the hidden benefits of having a solid nest-egg and a good investment portfolio? Holden is the founder of Invested Development and she's taught thousands of people how to do what she offers inside this book. Just know that this isn't a book to breeze through lightly; it's serious, but still fun to read.

Or maybe taking care of yourself is high on your list of Wanna Do's for the coming year. Then you'll need to look for "The New Rules of Women's Health: Your Guide to Thriving at Every Age" by Meghan Rabbitt, foreword by Maria Shriver (The Open Field, $35.00). If you're old enough to remember "Our Bodies, Ourselves," then you'll be familiar with the format here – which is that of a comprehensive, look-it-up guidebook for symptoms, signs, and expectations for your reproductive health, your mental health, and your general health. This is not a replacement for a doctor but with healthcare in the news, it's instead a book that you can use as a guideline and a launching point for feeling your best.

Need to lose weight this year? Maybe your physician has prescribed something to help, and in "Off the Scales: The Inside Story of Ozempic and the Race to Cure Obesity" by Aimee Donnellan (St. Martin's Press, $30.00) you'll read a deep look at GLP-1s, where the research initially came from, what the future with them looks like for patients who need to access the various benefits of the drugs, and what questions are still unanswered. This is not a tell-all book; rather, you'll find balanced, informed information, and questions you should think about and ask yourself and your doctor.

And finally, who doesn't want to live happy and healthy? Yep, so you'll want to read "Eat Your Ice Cream: Six Simple Rules for a Long and Healthy Life" by Ezekiel J. Emanuel, MD (Norton, $28.99). What do you need to do to ensure that you're the 99-year-old on the dance floor? The author tells you, in a few simple (and fun!) steps that you'll love doing at any age.

And if these books don't fit the resolution you have in mind, then head to your nearby bookstore or library and ask the pros there for help finding the book you need. And then good luck! This is do-able! ~

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagor, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 866-266-7512 or visit this internet website www.elitepostandpub.com using the file number assigned to this case 2025-01069. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.NOTICE TO TENANTS: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 866-266-7512 or visit this internet website www.elitepostandpub.com using the file number assigned to this case 2025-01069 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
